

Dear Friends, Families and Patients,

You may remember that in the beginning of 2018 I transitioned to semi-retirement, and Dr Kristine Uyesugi took over my pediatric practice. Since then I have worked filling in for her, typically a couple of days per month. This has allowed me to stay in touch with and say farewell to many of you. It is now time to take the next step, I am officially retiring from the practice of medicine effective immediately. I have been blessed with great patients and the opportunity to get to know many wonderful families. Thank you all for having the confidence and trust in me to allow me to take care of your children. It is gratifying that Dr Uyesugi has been so well accepted and so capably taken over my practice. I retire with many warm memories and the satisfaction of knowing that my former patients will receive great care.

I wish you all happy, successful futures and hope that we run in to each other out in the community.

Best regards,

Dr Clarke
